

CAKE & COCKHORSE, VOLUME 12

Nos. 1 – 9, Autumn 1991 – Summer 1994

CONTENTS

1	A Banbury Adventure [origin of town's name], G.A. Colbran	2
	'The Immediate Route from the metropolis to all parts...' [Judd and Stone, Banbury carriers, early nineteenth century], J.S.W. Gibson	10
	Does Anyone Know Differently? [bridge at Kings Sutton possibly constructed from former railway lines], J.A. Blencowe	25
2	A Visit from the other side in a Township near Banbury in 1706 (a ghost story), Geoffrey Stevenson	30
	William Judd and the Banbury Corporation, Penelope Renold	41
3	A Survey of Bridge Street and Mill Lane, Banbury, Iain Ferris, Peter Leach, Stephen Litherland	54
	The Hitherto Unknown Jews of Banbury, Gloria Mound	66
4	Alfred Beesley, E.R.C. Brinkworth	79
	Bridge Street: Some further evidence, J.S.W. Gibson	85
	Land Tax Payers in Banbury Hundred, 1753 [lists all such Taxpayers], J.S.W. Gibson	87
5	Thomas Apletree of Deddington: Royalist or Parliamentarian? Reg. Apletree	114
	Oxford's Last Public Hanging: The case of Noah Austin, Pamela Horn	122
	The Lost Gardens of Roman Oxfordshire, Michael Hoadley	126
	The Horton Hospital	128
	A 'Unicorn' Trade Token, J.S.W. Gibson	136
6/7	The Garden in Roman Oxfordshire, Michael Hoadley	138
	A Banburian Cotton Master [Mark Cook, b.1788], B.S. Trinder	146
	Staley's Warehouse, Robert Kinchin-Smith	148
	Canal Boat Families in Census Returns, J.S.W. Gibson	172
	Thirty-Five Years On – Banbury Historical Society	178
8	D-Day Prelude, Eric G. Kaye	186
	'They Flew from Wykham Hill', David J. Neal	188
	'Tosty Tell Me True' [folklore], Christine Bloxham	200

Cake & Cockhorse, 12, 1-9, Autumn 1991 – Summer 1994, contd.

9	Prize Fighting in Banbury [Tom Johnson v Isaac Perrins, 1789], J.S.W. Gibson	214
	Alkerton: A famous church frieze; a famous rector [Thomas Lydiatt], Nan Clifton	224
	Two Canal Entrepreneurs from Banbury [James Barnes, Thomas Cotton], Hugh Compton	230
	Conservation – Reflection on the Past, 1984 to 1994, Sally Stradling	239
	Brief Thoughts on Restoring an Old House, Jeremy Black	248