

CAKE & COCKHORSE, VOLUME 14
Nos. 1 – 9, Autumn/Winter 1997 – Summer 2000
CONTENTS

1	Forty Years On: Banbury Historical Society, J.S.W. Gibson	2
	Sulgrave – 1: The early centuries, Martin Sirot-Smith	8
	The Will of Edward Dumbleton of Easington, 1603, Philip Arnold	17
2	The Oxford Canal and the Ironstone Business, Hugh Compton	26
	Sulgrave – 2: The Washingtons, Martin Sirot-Smith	37
3	Sulgrave – 3: After the Washingtons, Martin Sirot-Smith	58
	Royalist Artillery at Broughton Castle, Nicholas Allen	67
4	Archaeology at Castle Quay, Banbury, Steve Litherland	82
	A New Museum for a New Millenium, Simon Townsend	93
	The Marston St. Lawrence Area: Archaeology and early history, Derek Barrett	97
5	Excavations at Adderbury House, Steven Weaver	110
	An aerial view of Henry Stone & Son Ltd., pre-1925	120
	The War Effort at Henry Stone’s, 1939-45, Walter McCanna	122
6	The Church Militant: William Beaw, Vicar of Adderbury and Bishop of Llandaff, Nicholas Allen	134
	The Conduct Books of William Whately: A seventeenth century Banbury Vicar’s advice on marriage, Jacqueline Eales	149
7	Who Are the Romanies?, Michael Hoadley	158
	The Kingham Stopping Goods, Michael Clifton	160
	Eydon Field Names, Christine Howes	174
8	‘A View near Banbury’, by Thomas Rowlandson, Simon Townsend	186
	The Original Banbury Cross, J.S.W. Gibson	189
	Recent Excavations at Castle Quay, Banbury: A second interim report, Steve Litherland and Kirsty Nichol	198
9	Staffing Oxford Canal – around 1851, Hugh Compton	230
	Woad in the Banbury Area, Vivien Billington	247
	Miss Bromley’s School in the 1930-40s, Dorothy Harrison (née White)	257
	Indexes to Volume 14, J.S.W. Gibson	261