Great Fires of Banbury and London

KS1

Curriculum link	The National Curriculum for history requires KS1 pupils to know about a key aspect of British history beyond 1066, and to complete a local study
Why Purpose of the workshop	• To discover that both Banbury and London experienced a great fire in the 1600s, with very similar causes and consequences • To explore how the materials and everyday objects of the 1600s were very flammable, as well as the buildings
What Main concepts and knowledge the workshop covers	• To understand, through play, how people lived in the 1600s and recognise all the factors which caused the fires to start and spread • To dress up and handle quality replica objects to work out what would have happened to people's belongings in the fires • To discover how ordinary people were affected, which key people wrote about the fires, and what happened afterwards • In the Museum, to see lots of objects and materials from the 1660s
How Summary of the structure and teaching style	• Sessions are structured with a scene-setting starter, then a variety of activities, and end with reflection and recap • For some activities, the class is divided into groups • Our teaching style is fun, accessible and adaptable • We ask that teachers help with some activities, such as dress-up • The session is authentic and exciting and includes some heavy, fragile and sharp objects. All have been risk assessed and are suitable for most KS1 children • We have costumes in both larger and smaller sizes • We understand that not every child will be comfortable with every activity
